Visitors guide to travelling to the University of Cambridge

David Attenborough Building, New Museums Site

For timetables visit www.nationalrail.co.uk

There are fast trains from London King's Cross Station to Cambridge every half hour, taking about 50 minutes. Direct trains are available to Cambridge from Norwich, Ipswich, Kings Lyn, Peterborough, Birmingham, London Liverpool Street and Stansted Airport.

From the Railway station you can walk to the David Attenbourgh Building in around 20 minutes, or take the Citi 1, 3 or 7 to opposite Downing College.

To make interchanging between train and bus easier, purchase a PLUSBUS ticket online when you buy your train ticket. A Cambridge PLUSBUS ticket gives you unlimited bus travel on all bus services run by Stagecoach and Go-Whippet (including Busway services), around the whole urban area of Cambridge city. Day or season tickets are available. Find out more here:

www.plusbus.info/cambridge

If you're travelling by train, you could bring your bike with you and cycle from the station. Cycling from the station will take around 10 minutes. Restrictions apply if you are travelling at certain times. Find out more online at www.abelliogreateranglia.co.uk/travel-information/your-journey/cycling/bikes-on-trains

Cycle hire facilities are also available at the station.

The Uni 4 bus can be used to get to the David Attenborough Building from the train station, Cambridge Biomedical Campus and West Cambridge site. Plan your bus journey by visiting www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/info/20017/buses

Or download the MyBusTrip app to find out when your next bus will arrive.

Cycle

In Cambridge it's quicker to make many journeys by cycling than by car.

The map shows typical cycling time to get to the David Attenbourgh Building based on someone cycling at a moderate speed of 10km per hour.

This shows you can easily get to the train station and many other University sites in less than 15 minutes by bike.

Car share!

Even if you're making a one off your journey to the David Attenborough Building, New Museums Site, you might find someone who could offer you a lift to get there on the car sharing website. It's quick and easy to register a journey.

How can you start car sharing?

- 1. Register online at www.liftshare.com.
- 2. Register your journey to work.
- 3. Look for someone who makes the same route.
- 4. Get in touch with them to organise a match!

Car Parking

There is no car parking on site (apart from disabled spaces).

University of Cambridge Travel Plan

The University of Cambridge Travel Plan aims to reduce the number of car trips travelling to University sites and encourage trips to the University to be made sustainably. To find out more visit:
