

2022 SCCS Conference

29-31 March 2022

Our first ever hybrid event. Live online and in the Department of Zoology, University of Cambridge

Building links among young conservation scientists and practitioners

Apply Now
Applications close
15 SEPTEMBER 2021

www.sccs-cam.org

SCCS is aimed at early-career researchers working in university departments, conservation organisations, and resource management agencies. Approximately 200 postgraduate students (and similar-stage researchers) attend the conference each year, from a broad range of disciplines in conservation, including ecology, genetics, geography, sociology & economics.

Plenary speakers

Dr Toby Gardner
Stockholm Environment Institute, Sweden

Yolanda Kakabadse
Former Minister of the Environment of Ecuador

Prof Mark Burgman
Centre for Environmental Policy, Imperial College, UK

Dr Krithi Karanth
Chief Conservation Scientist, Centre for Wildlife Studies, India

Your role in the Conference

The three-day event consists of around 30 short talks and 100 posters presented by early-career researchers. Presentations on economic and social as well as biological aspects of conservation are welcome. Prizes are awarded for outstanding talks and posters.

Workshops help build practical skills. Social events provide lots of opportunities to network with others in your own and related disciplines.

Conference costs

In-person conference fee (incl. meals, drinks & carbon offset) is £100, online fee is £25. Fee includes access to talks, posters and social events.

Accommodation incl. breakfast for a limited number of delegates is available in a nearby college at £50 pp/per night.

Bursaries & Internships

SCCS will provide bursaries & month-long internships for some students from developing countries and eastern Europe. Find out more at sccs-cam.org